When should she switch from diapers to Pull-Ups?

Every child is unique, but here's what moms & dads told us about knowing when it was time to switch.

'Me Do' Attitude

She Seeks Independence

She wants to do more on her own, like getting dressed or undressed, even when you don't want her to.

Follows Directions

She Understands Directions

She follows simple directions like putting toys away or clothes in the hamper.

Too Busy for Changes

Diapers Stop the Fun

Pull-Ups are great for kids who are constantly moving because they can be changed while standing up.

Why should we use Pull-Ups training pants instead of diapers? Aren't they the same thing?

The difference between diapers and Pull-Ups training pants is that Pull-Ups are designed to fit and feel like real underwear. They represent a milestone for toddlers transitioning to being potty trained big kids.

Can I use Pull-Ups for both day and night?

Yes, these potty training pants provide trusted protection any time of day, including play time, nap time and bed time. Also try Pull-Ups Night*Time for extra overnight protection.

How do Pull-Ups work to help teach my child?

Unlike diapers, training pants are designed to fit and feel like big kid underwear. Your child can even put them on and take them off themselves. Pull-Ups Cool & Learn pants also provide a brief cooling sensation when wet to promote learning.

How well do Pull-Ups Cool & Learn absorb?

Pull-Ups offers trusted day and night protection similar to diapers. If your child needs extra absorbency we recommend using Pull-Ups Night*Time.

Do Pull-Ups work for my child who only wets at night?

Instead of training pants, try GoodNites for kids 28 pounds and up who are already potty trained. They have outstanding protection and fit growing kids. Review 2021, feedback 2021, promo code, discount code 2021, buy, picture, description, sale, price comparison, cheap, cheapest, value for money.
